

STRATEGIC OPTIONS FOR REAL ESTATE DEVELOPERS IN A CONTRACTING MARKET:

A resources & ideas workshop for affordable and mixed-income for-sale housing developers

A complimentary workshop for developers of affordable and mixed-income for-sale housing in a time of increasing uncertainty. Are you wondering how to jump-start sales or how to deal with a project experiencing foreclosure? As you close out your last units, are you receiving calls from your earlier buyers regarding foreclosure prevention and don't know who to refer them to?

WHEN: Tuesday, June 2, 2009
10:00 am - 4:00 pm

WHERE: Roosevelt University
1400 N Roosevelt Blvd, Schaumburg, IL

COST: Free! Pre-registration required; space limited.

To RSVP, contact Kate at 312.252.0440 x205 or kmcinerney@cclfchicago.org

- Learn about recent governmental measures to manage the foreclosure crisis, and how financial institutions are responding
- Get updated on the current dynamics of local housing markets
- Learn who to refer your home buyers to for mortgage and foreclosure prevention counseling
- Get your questions answered, such as how to jump-start sales, evaluate options if your project stalls, and, if worst comes to worst, how to deal with a project experiencing foreclosure

With thanks to our sponsors:

GRAND VICTORIA
FOUNDATION

29 East Madison
Suite 1700
Chicago, IL 60602
tel 312.252.0440
fax 312.252.0419
www.cclfchicago.org

And to our co-host, Roosevelt University:

MARSHALL BENNETT INSTITUTE of REAL ESTATE